

Buckhorn Area Quilters' Guild

SEPTEMBER 2018

From our President:

When I retired from work I was looking for something to do while my husband, who retired several years before me, went curling and golfing. Perhaps a familiar story for many of us! I called Yettie and asked her about this quilt guild. I had seen the cars in the parking lot on Wednesday mornings, had attended a show and was impressed by the hard work and creativity. Several years later, here I am starting my term as president of the Buckhorn Area Quilters' Guild and I couldn't be more impressed with your energy and accomplishments.

Celebrating 30 years in 2018, this vibrant, busy guild is made up of skilled women who are always willing to share their knowledge and ideas to enrich our quilting experience.

A big thank-you to all who are stepping down from executive positions and a warm welcome to the new executive group.

As I write this, Maureen Pickett and her committee are putting in countless hours planning the 2018 "Quilting at the Lakes" Show. This show will be another success because so many of our members get involved and create the wonderful quilts. Thank you Maureen and your team. I'm delighted to work with you all stitching together a fantastic 2018/2019 quilting year! Sue Dundas

QUILT SHOW NEWS:

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you! I really can't say that enough times. The 2018 BAQG quilt show has been and gone and was it a winner! I'm so pleased that we had a problem hanging the initial registrations and had to cut back. In my history of 3 shows we have never had 73% membership putting items in the show and I am so happy. All weekend I heard nothing but praise from visitors. They were amazed at the quality and diversification of our quilts. People commented on the number of hand quilted quilts and the quality of the hand quilting! The vendors were happy and thrilled with how we treated them. Chris and her merry elves certainly do spoil them. The twoonie draw drew lots of interest and again praise for the number and quality of the baskets. Linda and her kitchen crew spoiled the volunteers and vendors. Those hot meals on Tuesday and Wednesday were very special. I can't say enough about our faithful volunteers. Paul Leger was a wonderful feature quilter with his quirky quilts and his wonderful sense of humour. Many people remarked on his display. All in all, it was a wonderful weekend. The only thing we couldn't control was the weather and it behaved reasonably well. little cool but no rain or snow! Thank you one and all for all your work both at the show and preparing your quilts for display. Thanks to all our volunteers (If you know someone who helped but might not get this newsletter, A please pass on the message). We can't do it without our volunteers, and our great venue BCC with Judy and Bill.

I already told Judy to pencil us in for 2 years from now so get quilting ladies. Next time 90% ! Tempus fugit!

Children's Program

This year we had 4 students. Three of them had no sewing experience. At the end of 6 Wednesday afternoons they had all completed a lap size quilt. This would have not been possible without the continued support of Northcott Canada, guild members who donated 2 1/2 inch strips, strips from our feature quilter Paul Leger and Pamela Charman who donated the embroidery floss for tying them.

Martha Woodford and Elsie Scott were our faithful assistants who helped us each Wednesday.

Stay tuned in the New Year for Children's Quilt Camp 2019 information. Yettie Ireland Pat Clayton

Our June Potluck Lunch:

It was delicious, and gluten free and was so much appreciated...the caterer, Lakefield Restaurant, has our best interests at heart.

Our Mystery Quilter was Maureen Pickett. She was fun, inspirational, and prolific. Her perseverance in completing her projects for our Luncheon was admirable and her trunk show was splendid. We can all appreciate her
